Seventh Annual GoGreen Conference in Seattle Announced for March 30, 2016

GoGreen Conference requests speaker and session proposals from statewide business and public sector leaders

September 30, 2015 (SEATTLE) –

The GoGreen Conference has released an official Call For Speakers and Session Proposals to shape the seventh-annual program of the GoGreen Conference in Seattle, an educational event for business and public sector leaders now confirmed for March 30, 2016 at the Conference Center in downtown Seattle.

The GoGreen Conference brings together business leaders and pioneering thinkers from the regional private, public, education and nonprofit sectors, who share their strategies for improving collaborative processes, measurable results and innovative approaches around sustainability. Thought leaders share the challenges and accomplishments of the sustainability movement as it continues to gain traction in business consciousness.

In partnership with King County, Title and Program Partner, GoGreen Seattle will explore the programming theme of Green Your Workplace. The Call for Speakers and Sessions Proposals requests business leaders to submit case studies, success stories, cutting edge ideas and best practice examples to be a part of the 2016 conference program. The 2016 Call for Speakers and Session Proposals overview explains topics of interest, session formats submission requirements and review criteria. All submissions must be received by Friday, Nov. 6, 2015 at 5 p.m. PST to be considered.

About King County

King County, Wash. covers more than 2,000 square miles and is nearly twice as large as the average county in the United States. With more than 2 million residents, King County ranks as the 14th most-populous county in the nation. Under the leadership of Executive Dow Constantine, King County's government is nationally recognized for taking bold steps to help the region mitigate and adapt to climate change. King County has led the way in creating numerous policies and programs geared toward achieving sustainability and market-based solutions to protect the environment and enhance everyone's quality of life. Most recently, in his 2014 State of the County address, Executive Constantine framed his policy agenda for meeting two of the "greatest generational challenges" of our time: Building equity and opportunity, and confronting climate change.
